SUNRISE FROM SOUTH SUMMIT, MT. EVEREST

The Rug Republic

The Republic of Fashionable Homes

The year 2019 was a really special year for me. The long standing dream of climbing Mt. Everest was achieved by God's grace on 22nd May 2019. An expedition of that scale gave me many learnings, two of which are especially relevant to the journey of TRR:

1. "Scale" of our dreams need not scare us. As large and daunting is the mighty Mt. Everest- it is scalable with determination, preparation, passion and humility. Our journey with TRR is the same and we are enjoying it!

2. The power of "one step at a time" can get you anywhere when backed by boundless enthusiasm and will power. The 45 days long Everest expedition is all about putting one step ahead of the other- a couple thousands times, no matter what! Our journey at work may not be life threatening, but we as a team, bring the same spirit to the table when pursuing our dream of making TRR a global brand.

Excited as we are, it is about more market relevant products, both for styling and price points. More naturals, lighter weight rugs with versatile looks are in demand worldwide. TRR continues to excel in its role for being your one stop source, for not just Indian handmade rugs but also some globally sourced machine made products. Our offering on indoor-outdoor rugs has been significantly expanded, so has been the collection of poufs, pillows and benches- presented in a separate catalog.

I'm sure that we will continue to win your trust and partnership for the journey of The Rug Republic!

Warmly,

Aditya Gupta

TRR also supports the retailer with marketing tools and material so that the floor fashion stocks do the selling themselves. Quick availability means lesser inventories and fast replenishment—hallmark of every successful modern business.

The TRR Outlet model

The TRR outlet model is a discounters delight. As our catalogs get updated, you could get lucrative discounts on clearance stocks. Our continuous design cycles will ensure clearance stocks over a wide choice of designs. Offer Unbeatable deals 365 days a year to your customers and yet remain product profitable.

Architects & Interior Designers

The collection comprises of trendy products which can be procured for projects large and small. All of these are swiftly customisable for pattern, design and colour. Our beautiful catalogue is a tool which makes project work and sourcing really easy.

ASK US EVERYTHING

How do I become a dealer?

Very easy! Place a minimum opening order as low as USD 5000 to get dealer discounts over the standard prices. Step into the world of simplified direct sourcing!

What support do I get as a TRR dealer?

Firstly- ample stocks to fulfill your orders. Secondly, a whole range of merchandising materials, starting from an attractive rug display units, swatch display units to catalogs, posters, brand clothing. Professional photographs for your website and social media. Items are charged for on not-for-profit costs only.

Can I do custom sizes and designs?

Yes, custom rugs are an important part of our offering. You can customize to any extent, we quote costs and delivery time based on the exact requirement.

Are there any minimums per article?

No, you can order as little as you need of individual articles. However, dealer discounts are applicable only on the minimum net invoice value of USD 5000, which could be spread over dozens of articles. It is also possible to directly order using your credit card and pay at our website www.trrb2b.com which is at your service regardless of “office hours”!

Can we get door delivery service?

Yes, our shipping team is great for getting you excellent costs for all logistics because of our large volumes with cargo companies. We encourage our clients to compare costs and are happy to arrange door delivery for the same in case they prefer. When you buy from TRR you can focus on selling, we take care of the rest.

what about drop ship programs?

Yes, that's easy to set up with us. Stocks are available in India and our global rates with FedEx/DHL make it possible to door deliver directly to consumers worldwide.

Do you have clearance deals on a regular basis?

Yes, we have about 5000 units on clearance always at all price levels. Our clients are encouraged to mix discounted rugs into their shipments, again without any MOQ requirements.

Can I have an exclusivity on the collection?

It is possible to agree on defined market area exclusivity based on appropriate volume of orders which can be mutually agreed based on the territory under discussion. 'Exclusivity' is not really commonly offered as we keep inventory for all items and need flexibility to sell. Unless explicitly agreed in writing, TRR is not exclusive to any trading partner and all rights are reserved with The Rug Republic, India

KNOW YOUR RUG

A rug can be made using different materials like Wool, Cotton, Leather, Jute, etc. All these materials have different properties and features that give a carpet its identity.

1. Wool

Carpet made of wool are resistant to wear and tear. Give warmth to the room and also absorb moisture, soft and comfortable to walk on. Reflects light in different directions and hence are not very shiny. Prevent accumulation of static electricity.

2. Cotton

Cotton carpets hold their shape well and do not get disfigured easily. They are cheaper than wool and silk carpets. Cotton as a fabric has 'breathing' property. It absorbs and releases moisture quickly. Soft on touch and comfortable to walk on.

3. Leather/ Natural Hide

Natural hide or animal skin is used. They are sturdy and have a long life. Look very rich and sophisticated. Soft on touch and are stain resistant.

4. Jute

Jute carpets are environment friendly due to their recyclable nature. They are sturdy and stain resistant. Due to low cost of fabrication, these carpets are cheaper.

5. Viscose

Feels like natural silk. Soft and rich feel with a shiny luxury texture. In trend with premium brands and stores across the world.

6. PET

Made from recycled plastic bottles, these are the latest addition to rug materials.

Easy care and water resistant.

Well suited for outdoor use as water does not harm the fiber.

Looks and feels like wool and great for indoor use too.

HOW TO TAKE CARE OF RUGS?

Regular rug care will enable your rug to maintain its original appearance and style for years. There are some very simple to-do's as given below: Apply to (Cotton, Polyester, PET, Wool, Viscose Rugs)

1. Light Vacuum clean regularly. Avoid using beater brush on rugs.
2. Remove spills immediately. Blot any liquid with a clean cloth or a paper napkin.
3. Please do not pull loose ends if any. Trim with scissors.
4. Please keep away from sharp objects, hot surfaces, open fire places and excess moisture.
5. Please do not soak the rug in any liquid.
6. For initial weeks, shedding of material fibre may be observed. This is normal, and will reduce with time & usage.
7. Colors may fade slightly when placed in areas of direct sunlight. In this case, it is advisable to periodically rotate your rug to ensure this process is even.
8. Make sure the rug is clean and dry. Store in a ventilated, dry area. Do NOT fold. Roll the rug with front side in-wards, EXCEPT for leather rugs, roll with front side outwards.

SPECIAL CARE INSTRUCTIONS FOR SPECIFIC MATERIAL TYPES GIVEN BELOW.

Leather Rugs:

1. Use soft hand brush to clean.
2. A natural smell of leather may be felt in a new rug which is non hazardous.
3. The rug may not lie flat immediately when taken out of the polybag but will settle down over a period of time.

Jute Rugs:

1. Natural variations in color and texture of jute in different parts of the rug add to its beauty and authenticity.

2. A natural scent of jute may be felt in a new rug which is non hazardous.
3. The rug may not lie flat immediately when taken out of the polybag but will settle down over a period of time.

Recycled Rugs:

1. These Eco rugs are handmade from recycled fabrics/ materials.
2. Each rug is unique in colour/ style/ texture.
3. Deep colours may have a tendency to stain light surface especially if wet, please ensure dry usage and a rug underlay is recommended.

HOW TO CHOOSE THE RIGHT RUG?

Rugs and carpets are the ultimate decorative accessory; it gives warmth and personality to a space. But choosing the right rug can be a tricky business; the right one can finish a space to perfection, while the wrong one can make a room feel awkward or unfinished. But with so many styles, colors and materials to choose from, how do you know which one is right for you? It's actually easier than you think. Here are a few ground rules to help you find the right area rug for your space:

Right Styles

Two of the biggest factors to consider when choosing a rug that you will love to live with are your lifestyle and your own personal style. Will you be placing your rug in a high-traffic area, such as a family room or hallway? Do you have young children or pets? If yes, you will want to choose a rug that's easy to clean and durable, like leather or wool. A patterned rug in darker shade will be able to hide dirt and stains in high-activity areas. If you want rug for a more decorative purpose, luxurious viscose, shaggies, cotton and leather rugs are available in rich designs and colors. Recycled fabric rugs can be opted by the more environmentally conscious users. Make sure any rug or carpet you are considering eventually complements your style.

Right Color

If you have color and pattern going on in your space, you might want to stick with a single-color, either a neutral or a shade which complements your existing furnishings. If you want a patterned rug with many shades, add in furniture and accessories that coordinate afterwards. Dark, rich colors help define a more intimate space while lighter colors make a smaller space appear larger. Bright colors such as yellow, orange or red add warmth while cool colors like blue and green create calm.

Right Pattern

Give yourself permission to go bold with patterns. Mixing patterns within the same color group will add depth to your décor. While selecting complementary colors to pair with your rug just make sure to select the non-dominant color within the design. A brightly colored or boldly patterned rug can just be the right step if you want to lift up your space. Bold designs and large patterns in a small room can make it look larger.

Right Texture

A room with a combination of different textures feels layered and rich, and an easy way to set this tone is by giving attention to the texture of your rug. Let your existing décor guide you, and aim for contrast.

Right Comfort

If you prefer a softer feel, then natural fibers such as wool and cotton are for you. If you want a deep, lush, pile, you can get a similar feel from synthetic fibers. Natural fibers such as jute can be surprisingly soft underfoot, but it's not as warm as a woven rug.

Right Size

An inaccurately sized rug can throw off the ambience of the entire room, even if the furniture is amazing. A rug should fit the size of your seating area and be as large as possible within it. The ideal situation is when all the legs of furniture are on the rug, but front-legs-only is a common practice.

Right Location And Purpose:

It is critical to keep in mind the type of activity and traffic that will take place in the room. Durable rug is needed for high traffic areas, while soft rugs can be used in the low traffic rooms. Rugs made of wool are timeless and lasting. They can be designed intricately which makes them great for bed rooms and living rooms. Rugs made of synthetic fabrics are more affordable and easier to clean. Making them great for high traffic areas.

Right Cost

Rugs are no longer considered a luxury which only a few enjoy. There are a wide variety of affordable options available in the market. Rugs which are made of Cotton, jute, hemp and chenille are affordable and durable. Synthetic fibers are designed to mimic the look and feel of wool and other expensive materials.

HAND WOVEN RUGS

These Rugs are produced on a loom quite similar to woven fabric but it is manual. The warp forms the pile or “face” of the rug and the weft makes the base or “backing” of the rug. Simple designs, carved, plain or over-tufted, form most of the best sellers here. Prices are significantly lower than hand tufted and hand knotted rugs.

PANJA KELIMS

A heavy instrument like a claw (‘Panja’ means claw) is used for beating the weft tight, and line by line, a magical rug is born. From region to region, the ‘Panja’ varies in size and design, and in some areas is supplemented by other tools. When the rug is completed, the pile is often shorn with special scissors to obtain an even surface. This technique is used to create premium flatweaves. Intricate patterns and dense quality are achievable in Panja Kelims. Price points lie between hand tufted and hand knotted rugs.

PIT LOOM RUGS

The Pit Loom is traditionally placed in a pit, where the artisan makes the rug through the use of pedals. In working it simulates the hand loom, only difference is its height and scale. The warps are maintained in tension between two beams, wefts are inserted manually. This technique has seen a lot of innovative changes, many creative items at very low prices are produced using these looms.

HAND TUFTED RUGS

In this process, the base fabric is stretched on a metal frame and yarn is inserted through the fabric with the help of a tufting hand gun. When the rug features a pattern, the design is drawn on wax paper to set a trace. The artisan tufts over the pattern, paying attention to where the colours are to be placed, and then paints the underside of the rug with latex glue and covers it with a backing canvas. Once complete, the rug's tufts or "loops" may be left visible, shaved down, or carved to create definition in the pattern.

HAND KNOTTED RUGS

The process of hand knotting rugs goes back a few hundred years. Hand knotted rugs are produced using ancient techniques, have unlimited design and color variations. They are made on a vertical frame called a hand knotting loom. Depending on the type of knots made, the size of the wool strands, and how tightly the knots are tied and pounded down, the density and level of quality of a rug is determined. The back of the rug reveals much about its quality, and is a good reference for assessing value. Individual rugs can take months to make, price levels are the highest amongst handmade rugs.

LEATHER RUGS

Hand made from a variety of different hides, the leather is cut and sewn by hand. Our skilled artisans have been making rugs for many years before and have mastered the technique of leather stitching that normally takes a year to perfect. These rugs have been in trend over the last decade and are extremely hard wearing. Highly recommended for high traffic areas as well as ultra modern interiors. Available at a vast variety of price points between handtufted and handknotted rugs.

PRINTED RUGS

Handtufted or handwoven rugs can undergo a special screen/digital printing process, skilled craftsmen create this magic, making each rug special in its handmade appearance. The result is a rug that's a unique work of art. The printing technique has added an interesting dimension to the available menu of handmade rugs. Several looks which are not possible in tufting or weaving can be achieved by printing, that too, at competitive prices.

TABLE TUFTED

Most popular for making bath rugs, the table tufting technique has been around for several decades. Handguided rugs are tufted for design against a fixed position needle. Commonly used with cotton, new man made materials are being increasingly used for this technique. Recently tufted/shaggy rugs have been produced by using this technique in order to create low cost options for fast moving products.

OUR VALUES

Creative: Exploring endless possibilities in a design-forward culture that generates value through cutting-edge, modern design. It is one of our most powerful differentiators, hence nurturing creativity is imperative.

Innovative: An undying spirit to change the norm. We thrive on fresh, new wave thinking that confronts excesses and are always mindful of the environment.

Driven: Passionate about what we do, we're always hungry for a good challenge. Never one to seek solutions in the obvious, we push the boundaries to find better, smarter ideas.

Authentic: Whether in external relationships or work culture, we stand by our word and promise only what we mean. Every accomplishment is the modest beginning of yet another.

Customer-centric: Intuitively understanding needs and trends, and offering superlative service as well as pro-active assistance with a smile.

Consistent: Timely execution and production processes that are closely monitored, ensure consistent value generation and output. This cycle of consistency has earned us the trust of customers worldwide.
